MARCHING INTO MARCH...

One thing I neglected to mention last month was that on February 2nd, (today, as I write this Editor's Note for our March issue) is the 40th Anniversary of Diamond Comic Distributors, Inc., PREVIEWS' parent company and reason for being. Yes, 40 years ago, our owner and guiding force Steve Geppi took the steps to create Diamond and begin his adventures in comic distribution. No small task, indeed.

40 years later, he oversees an entertainment empire that covers many facets of the pop culture market, from comics distribution, games distribution, publishing, archival supplies, auctions and sales, and grading. And PREVIEWS has been a big part of Steve's personal and historic journey, month in and month out, and we're ready for the next 40 years!

This month's theme in PREVIEWS is "Women in Comics," honoring and exploring the contributions of the industry's female creators. To help you dive into what's available, we've selected some choice titles starting on page 228 of this issue, and also throughout the issue marked with our "Women in Comics" icon, to show you related titles.

In addition, our Indie Edge interview profiles writer Stephanie Phillips, who you will know from her fan-favorite run on DC's Harley Quinn, as well as her own creator-owned series The Butcher of Paris (for Dark Horse), Nuclear Family (for AfterShock), and her latest series coming from BOOM! Studios, Grim! You can check out the solicitation for Grim on page 204 of this issue. I really think Stephanie's is a "voice" worth listening to.

Don't forget, FREE COMIC BOOK DAY 2022 is fast approaching on the first Saturday in May, the 7th. We had some updates since last month, so if you want to see what DC and Marvel are up to specifically, well, I suggest you turn to page 31 and check out the updates!

Thanks for being with us each month. And if this is your first issue of PREVIEWS, we hope that you enjoy it and come back to see us again in April. It'll be all-new stuff that you can't live without!

Overstreet's Lost Universes Now in Stores

From the Golden Age to the recent past, The Overstreet Comic Book Price Guide To Lost Universes documents comic book publishers and imprints that have come and gone – and in some cases come again – such as the Archie/MLJ superheroes, original Milestone, original Valiant, the T.H.U.N.D.E.R. Agents, and more.

With all the energy and record prices in the marketplace, from the Golden Age to the recent past, we've seen a lot of collectors looking for sleepers, hidden gems, or buried treasure. If you're looking to connect with those buyers, this is just the book for you! Atlas-Seaboard, Dark Horse's Comics Greatest World, CrossGen, DEFIANT, Future Comics, Topps' Kirbyverse, Marvel's New Universe, Triumphant, and Malibu's Ultraverse all share the spotlight. The book also includes creator interviews, collector profiles, and more.

Heritage Comics & Art Auction Rises to $23 Million

Heritage's Comics & Comic Art Signature Auction that was held on January 13-16, 2022, was one of their most successful auctions ever with a total of $23,760,335. The auction opened with a bang when Secret Wars #8 page 25, featuring the origin story for Spider-Man's iconic black costume, sold for $3,360,000.

Action Comics #1 CGC 6.0, featuring Superman's first appearance, flew to $3,180,000. Another million dollar comic sale was achieved when Batman's debut in Detective Comics #27 CGC 4.5 brought $1,140,000. Dave Cockrum art grabbed a new record when his cover to X-Men #107 jumped to $360,000. Marvel Comics #1 CGC 4.5 with the first appearance of the Human Torch hammered for $360,000.

DC's First Judomaster

Before Judomaster was picking fights with John Cena and eating hot Cheetos on Peacemaker, the character name was used by four different individuals in DC Comics.

The first Judomaster was Hadley Jagger, a Charlton Comics character created by Joe Gill and Frank McLaughlin. Introduced in Special War Series #4 (November 1965), Jagger was a sergeant in the army during World War II. He saved the daughter of a Pacific Island chief, who thanked Hadley by teaching him judo. When the Charlton characters moved to DC, he was reintroduced as a member of the All-Star Squadron. He died during Infinite Crisis when Bane broke his back during a battle in Metropolis.

Please tell us a bit about yourself!

My name is Stephanie Phillips, and I'm a comic book writer currently working on titles like Harley Quinn, Wonder Woman: Evolution, We Only Kill Each Other (ComiXology), and Nuclear Family (AfterShock). My work has appeared from DC Comics, AfterShock, BOOM!, Oni Press, Image/Top Cow, Dark Horse, and more. I also hold a PhD in rhetoric and composition and an MA in English from the University of South Florida. I taught writing, communication, and rhetoric courses for almost nine years at multiple universities before becoming a full-time comic book writer. Outside of comics, I spend my free time (what's that?) practicing Muay Thai and playing ice hockey!

What are your favorite projects you've contributed to over the past decade?

I like everything I've worked on and love that I've had the opportunity to work on such a variety of genres and characters, from Harley Quinn to WW2 historical fiction. I'm also incredibly lucky that I've gotten to work with some of the best artists and collaborators in comics — Riley Rossmo, Peter Krause, Laura Braga, Dean Kotz, Mike Hawthorne, Phil Hester, Tony Shasteen, and Ryan Lee, just to name a few. It's so hard to pick favorite projects because getting to create something with these amazingly talented people and seeing that vision come to life for audiences is always one of the coolest feelings in the world. I think it would be no surprise to anyone who reads my work, however, that I do love any project that lets me do copious amounts of research on historical people, places, and events. Butcher of Paris, Nuclear Family, Artemis & the Assassin, We Only Kill Each Other... I just find history fascinating and, in most cases, stranger than fiction could ever be. I love taking historical events and then making them accessible in the comic book medium in ways that we don't typically see.

What are you currently working on?

Lots of Harley Quinn, which is always a good thing! But I'm also working on more indie projects, like returning to Nuclear Family for volume 2 with Tony Shasteen and AfterShock Comics, as well as finishing up an unannounced project that I'll be able to talk more about in the next few months. It's a bit unlike anything else I've written to date, and has an incredible creative team attached, so I'm thrilled about that announcement, too!

What fun titles are you reading?

I'm really enjoying Something is Killing the Children and the House of Slaughter spin-off series from BOOM! Radiant Black by Kyle Higgins and Marcelo Costa, and The Good Asian by Pornsak Pichetshote and Alexandre Tefenkghi are also both high up on my list right now!

USER'S GUIDE

There's a lot of awesome comics and products to look through in PREVIEWS. "A lot" might be a bit of an understatement, as each month's catalog is filled with hundreds and hundreds of pages of upcoming comics and related merchandise! It can be easy to accidentally overlook a new series you've been dying to read or a figure you've been pining to add to your shelf when there's so many things to browse. That's why we've put together this guide to help you learn how to use PREVIEWS like a pro to order the awesome titles and products you want!

WHAT EXACTLY IS PREVIEWS?

PREVIEWS is part catalog, part magazine (we call it a Mag-a-log!) of monthly listings of all of the upcoming comic titles and related products from your favorite publishers and manufacturers in one convenient place. And don't worry—PREVIEWS is organized by publisher and product type (and color-coded to boot!), to make it easy to find and flip to the section or items you're looking for. Each item listing has the information you need, such as format, size, page count, price, release date, stock or item code, and descriptive text, and nearly every listing is accompanied by artwork or images.

The most important aspect of PREVIEWS to remember is that items solicited in the catalog are anticipated to ship 2-3 months later (or more). For example, if you found a comic you wanted in the May issue of PREVIEWS, you can expect to see it turn up in your local comic shop in July. The catalog can be a great resource for figuring out where your favorite comic series is going, or for discovering new ones that you'll want to add to your library—not to mention all the other awesome products!

HOW DO I ORDER FROM PREVIEWS?

When you've picked out all of the items you want, you can fill out the Short Order Form included in your copy of PREVIEWS and submit it to your local comic shop. You can also ask your friendly neighborhood retailer about obtaining a Customer Order Form, a booklet that contains a complete listing of all the items made available for that month. These forms make pre-ordering your comics and products a breeze and can help your local comic shop decide what to stock in the store for other customers, too! Be sure to also ask your retailer about their pullbox or subscription service. Once you've submitted your order, you can sit back and relax, or try to contain your excitement until your comics and merchandise arrive!

EIGHT BILLION GENIES UNLEASHES THE CHAOS OF EIGHT BILLION WISHES

What if you had a genie that would grant you a wish? What would you ask the genie for? Money? Friendship? Health? Super-powers? That comic book you wish you'd bought and didn't? That Ken Griffey, Jr. rookie card you traded away? That car you always wanted? The possibilities are endless, aren't they. You get one wish. You have to choose carefully.

But what if you weren't the only one with a genie? What if other people had wishes to make, too? What if everyone in the world had a genie? All eight billion people, with genies and wishes. What happens when everyone — the people you know, the billions more you don't — have their fondest wishes granted. What happens next?

Charles Soule and Ryan Browne explore that question — and the chaos that ensues — in their new Image Comics series, Eight Billion Genies. Life on Earth will never be the same, and Soule and Browne will chronicle every madcap moment. But Eight Billion Genies is also a story about people and how getting what they want isn't necessarily what they need. Soule and Browne will be your guide in one of Image's most offbeat series this year!

BOOM!'S NEW SERIES REVEALS AN UNTOLD TALE OF FRANK HERBERT'S DUNE

Frank Herbert's novel Dune has captivated readers since its publication in 1965. The tale of Paul Atreides, heir to one of the galaxy's great houses, and his struggle to claim the desert planet Arrakis has been adapted to film twice, most recently in Denis Villeneuve's Dune: Part One. Since the mid-1990s, Herbert's son Brian has collaborated with best-selling novelist Kevin J. Anderson to reveal the ten thousand year backstory of the Dune universe and to bring Frank Herbert's unfinished saga to a close. This spring, BOOM! Studios brings one of those untold tales to comics readers with Dune: The Waters of Kanly. Set after the Harkonnens attack the Atreides' fortress on Arrakis, Atreides weapons master Gurney Halleck was believed dead in the assault. In The Waters of Kanly, readers will discover that Halleck survived the attack and seeks revenge on the rival Harkonnens for the murder of his liege, Duke Leto Atreides. Herbert and Anderson are joined by artist Francesco Mortarino for a tale that will appeal to fans both of the novels and the new film!

AN EARLY BRIAN MICHAEL BENDIS WORK RETURNS TO PRINT IN DARK HORSE COMICS' JINX

Before Brian Michael Bendis became a key architect of the Marvel Universe, he made his name with gritty crime comics for Caliber Press and Image Comics, writing and illustrating them himself or working with collaborators such as Michael Avon Oeming, David Mack, and Marc Andreyko. One of those early works, Jinx, returns to print this summer in a deluxe trade paperback from Dark Horse Comics. Jinx, a bail bounty hunter, is on the trail of a cache of untraceable mob cash with two unlikely — and untrustworthy — allies in a hard-boiled noir thriller written and illustrated by Bendis that boasts over 60 pages of behind-the-scenes material and an introduction by David Mack. An important work in Bendis' oeuvre, Jinx still packs a wallop twenty-five years after its original publication!

TITAN COMICS' DOCTOR WHO: ORIGINS REVEALS A STORY OF THE FUGITIVE DOCTOR

In Doctor Who's "Fugitive of the Judoon," the thirteenth Doctor discovered she had an incarnation that she had no memory of having been, a dark-skinned woman known as Ruth, the Fugitive Doctor, who worked for a mysterious Time Lord organization, The Division. In Titan Comics' Doctor Who: Origins, tying into the 2022 Free Comic Book Day special, writer Jody Houser and artists Roberta Ingranata and Warnia K. Sahadewa tell the untold story of how this incarnation of the Doctor became a Fugitive from the Judoon — and the Time Lords!

The war between the Autobots and the Decepticons is eternal. It began on Cybertron, spread to Earth, and then out into the stars. In a universe billions of years old, that will exist for hundreds of billions more, no world will be untouched by that conflict. Veteran Transformers creators Nick Roche and E.J. A BRAND NEW, NEVER-BEFORE-SEEN ADVENTURE FEATURING THE FUGITIVE DOCTOR IN HER COMICS DEBUT!

We're back with the awesome creative team that brought you Doctor Who: Missy and Doctor Who: Empire of the Wolf. Today we're speaking to writer Jody Houser and artist Roberta Ingranata about their upcoming new Who series, Doctor Who: Origins!

JODY HOUSER AND ROBERTA INGRANATA

Hello, hello, hello! Lovely to speak to you ladies again. So tell us, how did you feel when you got the news you'd be doing a whole new series?

J: I was really excited to hear we were going to get a chance to work on a story featuring the Fugitive Doctor, who we haven't gotten to see much of just yet. And of course it's wonderful to be reunited with the creative team.

R: Hello to everyone! Both series have been exciting, above all it's nice to draw different characters in each season, today I can say that I have drawn half of the doctors in existence! And being a fan, that makes me very happy!

What are the main themes you both feel the new series is going to encompass?

J: I don't think I can say too much... Maybe revelation? There's definitely going to be a sense of uncovering truths and changing perspective, for the Doctor personally and the wider status quo.

R: I can only say that there will be many emotional moments and parts of a story that have never been told... This will be a big moment for the Doctor.

Which Doctors will be involved and how do you feel about writing/drawing them?

J: Of course we're going to see a lot of the Fugitive Doctor! I'm very excited to dig into her character more. Can't say much beyond that yet.

R: I don't know if I can spoil it! Every time I draw a new Doctor, the emotion is very high! I'm really happy because I can represent them with the heart and eyes of a fan, and the professionalism of a comic artist. That's been the same with the Fugitive Doctor - I don't know if I can spoil anymore!

Are there any cool aliens or creatures that we've not met in comic form before? Jody, what are you hoping fans will like about these new characters? And Roberta, what inspiration have you taken in regard to style of art?

J: There will be some new characters that I'm not sure I can say much about, but I really think people will find them interesting. We've got Weeping Angels, Time Lords and so much more, so that should give readers an idea. I'm really looking forward to seeing the designs from Roberta!

R: I can't tell you exactly what I was inspired by just yet, but I have been drawing the Doctor for many years now, and I draw from the heart. What inspires me is Jody's script in most cases.

Lastly, what about this series really excites you the most?

J: I'm really excited to get to explore a time and place we haven't been to in the comics before! We'll see more of Gallifrey at the height of Division, and get to watch the Fugitive Doctor in action!

R: Drawing Missy was an honor, while in Empire of the Wolf being able to draw Rose Tyler was... AMAZING. This time it was different - I cannot reveal the details - but it was really special! Getting to be the first artist to create the Fugitive Doctor in another medium is such a thrill and I hope I do her justice.

1—Splash— This is like those pages from Kill or be Killed, with text down the side, and a long splash panel. Now we're outside, and it's bright, and Max has his hat on now, and an overcoat over his jacket and shirt and tie. He's walking among a crowd of men and women in 1939 New York City, in winter. Buildings around him in the background, looking like something out of Will Eisner and Jack Kirby's childhoods.

Text runs down the right side of the page:

NARR: My editor Mort was the kind of asshole who liked to give his freelancers

"hard truths."

NARR: I'd never been good at listening to people like that...

NARR: The ones who try to tell you how the world works, like they're so smart and you're some rube, born yesterday.

NARR: And the longer I lived, the more of them there seemed to be.

NARR: That was one of the problems with getting older.

NARR: You hit an age where everyone either ignores you, or treats you like some hassle they're being forced to deal with.

NARR: But inside, you still feel like the same person you were thirty or forty years ago.

NARR: You don't think of yourself as the man in you see in the mirror... At least I didn't.

NARR: So I was peeved about getting assaulted... Even though I knew I should've been happy to still be working at all.

NARR: And that's how it happened... That I almost died for the third time.

Brian Michael Bendis, the award-winning cocreator of Miles Morales, Naomi, Jessica Jones, and Powers, tells a modern noir tale of crime, greed, and double cross.

A female bail agent, a low-level confidence man, and his loose-cannon sidekick form an unlikely alliance to track down the ultimate score—a hidden stash of life-altering, untraceable mob cash.

For this hard-luck trio, however, the old saying "more money, more problems" will prove to be disturbingly prophetic.

VAMPIRELLA STRIKES! #1

FC | 32 pages | Horror | $3.99 | Teen+ | 5/11

writer: Tom Sniegowski artist: Jonathan Lau
covers: Lucio Parrillo (A), Stephen Segovia (B), Junggeun Yoon (C), Ben Caldwell (D), Rachel Hollon Cosplay (E), Blank Authentix (F-RI), Michael Turner (G-RI/Icon), Lucio Parrillo (H-RI/Tint), Rachel Hollon Cosplay (I-RI/Virgin), Stephen Segovia (J-RI/BW), Junggeun Yoon (K-RI/BW), Stephen Segovia (L-RI/Virgin)

Having fulfilled her role of savior in Vengeance, Vampirella is now posed to Strike in an all-new series arising from the post-apocalyptic ashes of Dynamite's Vengeance of Vampirella series!

It has been 15 years since the death of Mistress Nyx and the world is slowly recovering, but this isn't a world that we've ever seen before. This is a world where the natural, and the supernatural have merged to create a dangerous new place—A world very much in need of Vampirella.

Sepulcher City has become a kind of microcosm of the world, humanity and the myriad monster races living in—not too perfect—harmony. It is a dark place, a violent place, one where a balance must be kept so order will remain.

Vampirella works as a special agent for the Danse Macabre on the most complex, and potentially violent of cases. Sepulcher City is where she spends most of her time, but often she is called out of the city, out into the world to deal with similar situations.

Enter the world of Vampirella Strikes under a series of amazing covers by returning superstars Lucio Parrillo, Stephen Segovia, Junggeun Yoon, and more stunning cosplay models and photos!

"In his two-year run, Sniegowski laid the groundwork for Vampirella to become a fierce bloodthirsty warrior with a purpose. His work on the character should be used as the benchmark for all Vampirella stories, as his "The Mystery Walk" origin story arc is one of the best story-arcs ever written in the character's near 50-year history." Bloody-Disgusting.com

THOMAS E. SNEGOSKI is the author of more than two dozen novels for adults, teens, and children. His teen fantasy YA series Fallen was adapted into a trilogy of monstrously successful TV movies by ABC Family Channel. His other books for teens include Sleeper Code, Sleeper Agenda, Legacy, and Force Majeure, as well as the series The Brimstone Network. The author's first adult novel, A Kiss Before the Apocalypse, developed into a series of novels about the character Remy Chandler. As a comic book writer, Sniegowski's work includes Stupid, Stupid Rat Tails, a prequel miniseries to international hit Bone. Sniegowski has also written the Bone: Quest for the Spark novels. Sniegowski collaborated with Bone creator Jeff Smith on the prequel, making him the only writer Smith has ever asked to work on those characters. Sniegowski and Golden also wrote the graphic novel BPRD: Hollow Earth, a spinoff of Hellboy.

TOM SNIEGOSKI'S BELOVED 30 YEAR VAMPIRELLA RUN CONTINUES

HERE'S THE SCOOP!

Tom, how naturally does writing Vampirella come to you at this point? Teasing ;)

HA! I know you're being a wiseass here, but seriously, after all these years it isn't easy to write her. There's a really specific mindset one has to be in to write her correctly, I believe. A lot of it has to do with where she is in this particular moment of her life. Is this the early Vampirella? Sort of naive and just wanting to do right, or is this a Vampirella that's just been resurrected after the world has gone through a Chaos apocalypse? Different sorts of Vampirellas require different sorts of writing. Does that make sense?

You wrote 25 issues of Vengeance of Vampirella. You also launched the initial Vampirella Strikes series in 1995. Then you returned and wrote another 25 issues of Vengeance of Vampirella, wrapped just recently. How does this new series connect to what you've done on the character before and recently?

This new series picks up after the events of my 25 issue run of Vengeance of Vampirella (the new one). Sort of a natural progression. I think that 90's run had a certain, special attitude that the character hadn't been exhibiting at that point, and I'm trying to carry that over in this new run. I'm really trying to make Vampirella Strikes different from what I did in Vengeance . . . but not too different.

With the background of your new Vengeance run and now the further time jump for this series, you've been able to craft a whole apocalyptic, post-apocalyptic, and now post-post-apocalyptic world for Vampirella. How does this reshaped future reflect our vampiress heroine, and how does it reflect on her?

It's all sort of a logical progression. Through the entire run of Vengeance, we had Vampirella trying to eliminate Nyx, and return the world to some semblance of normalcy. In Vampirella Strikes, she's succeeded somewhat, but the world is no longer capable of being what it once was . . . what Mistress Nyx has done to it has left some serious scar tissue behind. Vampirella is just trying her best to make the world as normal as once was, even though the world is fighting her every inch of the way.

What kind of missions will Vampi be going out on for the Danse Macabre in this new series? Can fans expect any particular exciting foes, or any familiar faces?

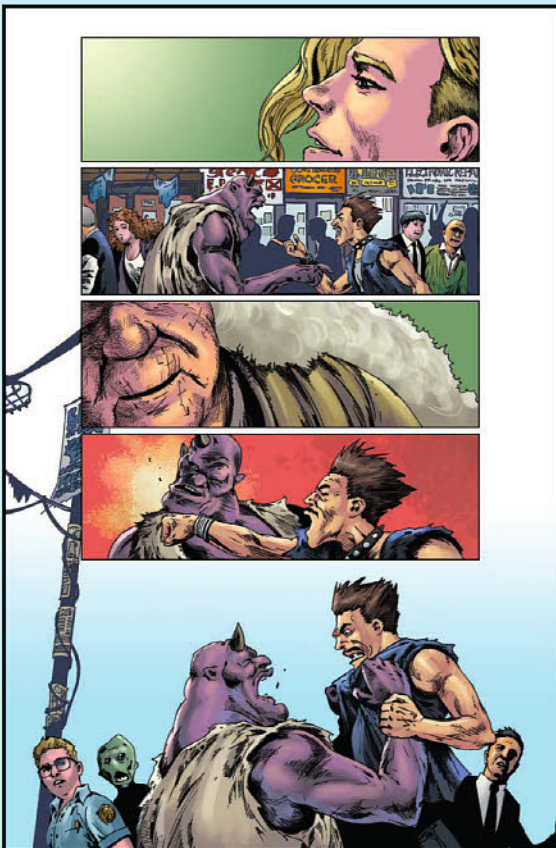

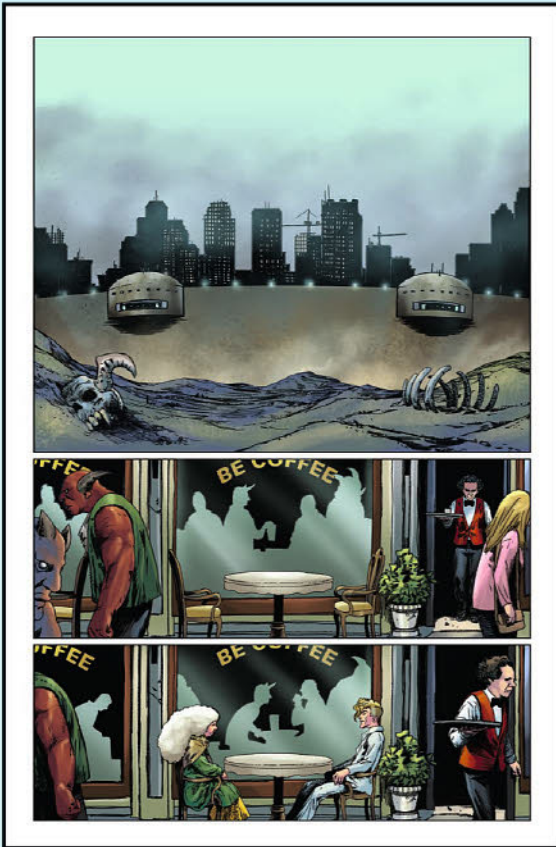

I really wanted to give Strikes a somewhat different feel, so by having her work for the Danse Macabre I've given it a sort of procedural feel, which is cool. We have Vampirella as a kind of world-weary investigator trying to keep the world from spinning off into chaos again. This sort of setting gives me a really cool way of telling different kinds of stories. And yes, we'll be seeing all sort of cool villains, both new AND old faces--but with new spins. I think the Vampi fans, as well as new readers, are going to get a kick out of how awesomely horrible these villains Vampirella is going up against are.

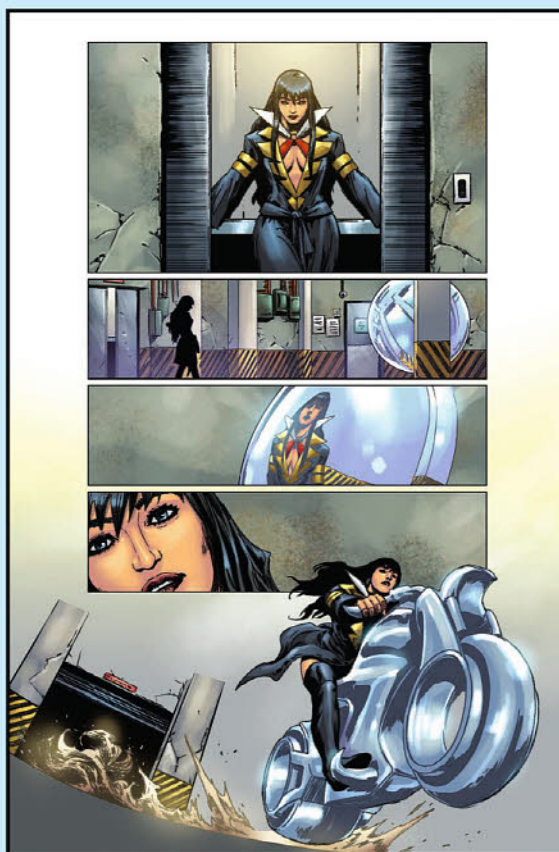

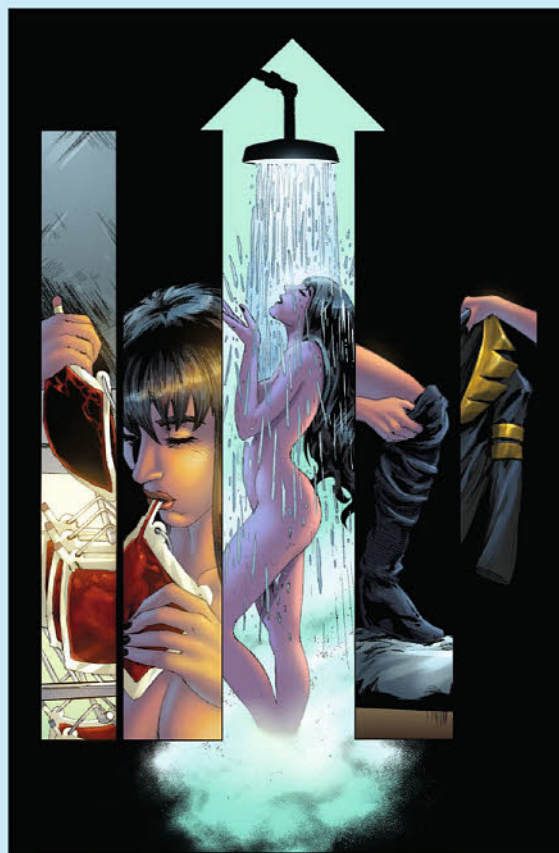

Jonathan Lau is joining up with you for this latest yarn. How is the collaboration going and seeing him bring your stories to the page?

I've always been a HUGE fan of Jonathan's work, and when I heard that he was going to be the artist on Strikes, my brain went into overdrive. He has a really amazing style and look to his art that sort of defined those sorts of stories that I wanted to tell in this new Vampirella series. He's actually the perfect choice. I couldn't be happier with what I've been seeing.

Elvira is back, and she's going PSYCHO!

The Mistress of the Dark has discovered that films create their own pocket dimensions, and now she's lost in the Multiverse of Movies! Will she find her way home, or is it just a big Hitchcock-tease? Join writer David Avallone (Elvira Meets Vincent Price, Bettie Page: Unbound) and artist Silvia Califano (the upcoming "Death of Elvira") for a comic you shouldn't show mother: she just goes a little mad sometimes.

All the fun, thrills, and spills under a series of amazing covers by returning artists Dave Acosta, John Royle, series artist Califano, and an amazing Elvira photo cover!

"Once again David Avallone proves to be a master of pulp storytelling as well as the double entendre. He captures Elvira's personality brilliantly and pretty much every interaction that she has is brilliantly written. Overall. Brilliant fun." — SciFiPulse.net

David Avallone is a freelancer from a long line of freelancers, born to a pulp fiction writer (Michael Avallone) and women's rights activist (Frances Avallone).

Since graduating from Bard College in 1987, David has been involved mostly in independent film production (as a writer, editor, director, producer, actor, etc.). In 2014 he branched out into comic book writing, mostly with Dynamite Comics. With them, he's written LEGENDERRY: VAMPIRELLA, TWILIGHT ZONE: THE SHADOW, DOC SAVAGE: RING OF FIRE, BETTIE PAGE and ELVIRA: MISTRESS OF THE DARK. For American Mythology, he's written ZORRO: SWORDS OF BLOOD, and for Kevin Eastman Studios he's writing DRAWING BLOOD and THE RADICALLY REARRANGED RONIN RAGDOLLS.

DAVID AVALLONE TAKES US ON A TOUR OF ELVIRA'S HORRORLAND

David, you and Elvira just wrapped up her adventure with the one and only Vincent Price. Looking back on that series, how satisfied are you with how it turned out? It got mostly rave responses from fans it seems.

Thanks! At the risk of sounding a smug (a risk I take far too often,) I'm very satisfied with the way it turned out. It was delightful to be able to write for Vincent Price... something I've never thought would be possible. He's someone I always wished I could have worked with. Naturally, this is only a pale shadow of that, but it still felt good to write for his ghost. The greatest review, in my mind, came from Victoria Price, who had approval of the series and never objected to any of what I wrote. I hope I get to do it again sometime.

Now that that series has come to a close, how does Elvira find her way into this new story arc? And how would you describe the title of "Horrorland?"

In issue five of ELVIRA MEETS VINCENT PRICE, Elvira learns that movies create their own little pocket dimensions: parallel universes where the movie is "real." In this sequel series, Elvira finds herself trapped in these little dimensions, trying to find her way back to our reality. Each issue focuses on a classic movie, with Elvira barging in and interrupting the natural flow of events the movie characters are used to.

You've referenced Alice in Wonderland as an interesting parallel to this new story, can you touch on that?

Like Alice, Elvira is in a fantasy world that's all too real and dangerous to her. She wants to get home, but at the same time can't help but get caught up in the events of the fictional people around her. Given a chance to change the story, she can't resist. Who could?

So each issue is set to parody and homage classic horror films! Can you tease fans with some favorites to watch out for in the series, and perhaps some that were left on the cutting room floor?

I think the covers are going to give everything away... but let's just say the first two issues find Elvira visiting the two worst hotels in the world... and the third one might find her in space. Where, you know, no one can hear you scream. Or tell dirty jokes.

Artist Silvia Califano is joining you on this new title. She's a newcomer to the Mistress of the Dark and follows some great artists like Dave Acosta. How has it been working with her on this series so far?

Silvia and I first worked together on an 8-page short for the first volume of the NIGHTMARE THEATER anthology. That piece was a dream-project I've wanted to do for years, and she did an amazing job, and was wonderful to work with. After that, I brought her on for an upcoming Elvira Kickstarter (more about that coming soon) and she demonstrated a great knack for capturing the many moods of the Mistress of the Dark. Silvia is the best kind of collaborator: gracious, immensely talented, and she always brings new and exciting ideas to the comic. I'm looking forward to the fun places we're going together on this series. It's going to be a wild ride, and hopefully... hilarious.

MIRKA ANDOLFO TALKS ABOUT SITHA'S SOLO FORAY

Your first story arc on the Red Sonja title introduced readers to the character of Sitha. For folks catching up or as a refresher, how would you describe this new heroine?

Luca Blengino and I thought about this character as extremely different from that of Red Sonja. She is quite naive and cheerful, her naiveté makes her adorable (or unbearable, depending on your point of view!). I thought a lot about the character of Rory (from my book Mercy) when I drew the first designs of her.

Fun fact: as for many of the characters in the story, the name was chosen by Luca, who is a very profound connoisseur of the universe of Red Sonja, and always had the right proposal!

The story "Mother" was, as the title implies, very much about Red Sonja playing a sort of motherly role for the young Sitha. What drew you to tell that story?

I admit it was absolutely natural for me. Since the first meeting (calling it "a meeting" seems even strange, it was more kind of a brainstorming, a chat over a coffee) with my co-writer, Luca, we focused a lot on that point. Those who already know my work know that personal relationships are an element on which I base my stories a lot, and in particular the mother-daughter relationship is fundamental both in Unnatural and in Mercy. Well, I don't know why I do, but...I find myself very comfortable in giving three-dimensionality to the characters by relating them in a relationship as complex and profound as the parenting one.

Now Sitha is all grown up in this series, ten years following her introduction. What is she like now, and how does she compare to her mentor of Red Sonja?

Sitha definitely grew up during the past ten years. After breaking free from Xamul (the spirit of fire that possessed her), she decided to follow the path of the sword, inspired by the courage of Red Sonja. She is a young bounty hunter, always on the trail of the most dangerous criminals in the kingdom of Aquilonia. Still different from Red Sonja, but in some ways similar to her.

What kind of relationship have Sonja and Sitha had over the decade between these tales? Have they remained in each other's lives or have the memories of Sonja continued to influence Sitha despite time apart?

You are asking too much of me, we need a "spoiler alert" sign! I would say that, although the presence of Red Sonja is not what Sitha had become accustomed to, in the ten years that pass between the end of Mother and the beginning of this story, the two have seen each other and interacted. I won't say "how", because I think we will show it.

Can you tell us about artist Valentina Pinti? What makes her such a great match for this series and the character of Sitha? Especially yourself as an artist, how is the collaboration going with Valentina?

The collaboration is very easy: she draws, I'm happy and approve (and the rest of the team with me). Valentina is an amazing artist, I love the power of her black & white, and the grace and strength that each of her images emanates. She was the perfect artist for Sitha.

SPOTLIGHT ON

I have loved her work for years. I followed what she has done in recent years (both for the American and European markets), and when we heard that she was available to illustrate this story, Luca, me, and the whole team celebrated. I'm serious. It was a great excuse to open a bottle and drink together. Giuseppe (Cafaro) has given an amazing contribution to our Red Sonja, and I am convinced that Valentina will do the same with Sitha.

Nyx has finally managed to reconcile her human and demon sides...but she had to make a deal with her father, the mad god Chaos. Has she finally found her soul only to sell it? Not if she has any say in the matter. There's an escape clause in the deal: Nyx has to kill her father. How does one go about destroying a primordial force of the universe, while keeping her reality from falling apart? You have to have a replacement standing by. And Nyx doesn't want it to be her. So the first thing she has to do is find a being capable of being the new mad god Chaos. Does Craigslist have a category for that...?

SHEENA: QUEEN OF THE JUNGLE #6

FC | 32 pages | Action/Adventure | $3.99 | Teen+ | 5/25

writer: Steven de Souza artist: Jethro Morales

Steven de Souza just check out all those credits at the end of this hype!) takes the reins as Sheena faces a new set of challenges: Higher education and a trip to the remnants of the Cenozoic Age?

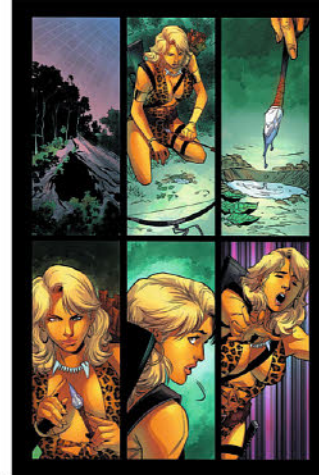

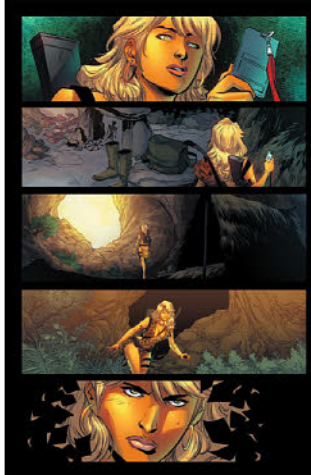

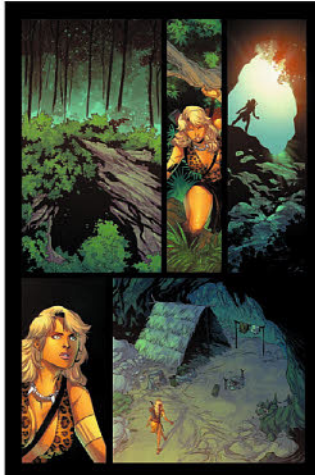

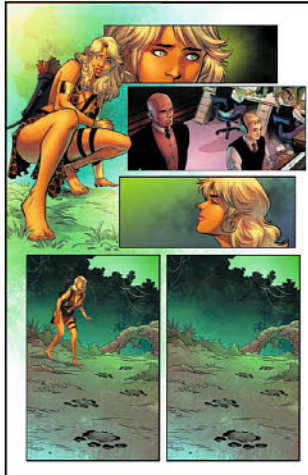

Artist Jethro Morales continues to illustrate the adventures of Sheena, while returning cover artists Lucio Parrillo, Arthur Suydam, Joseph Michael Linsner and stunning new cosplayer Jackie Goehner round out the most thrilling adventure comic on the racks!

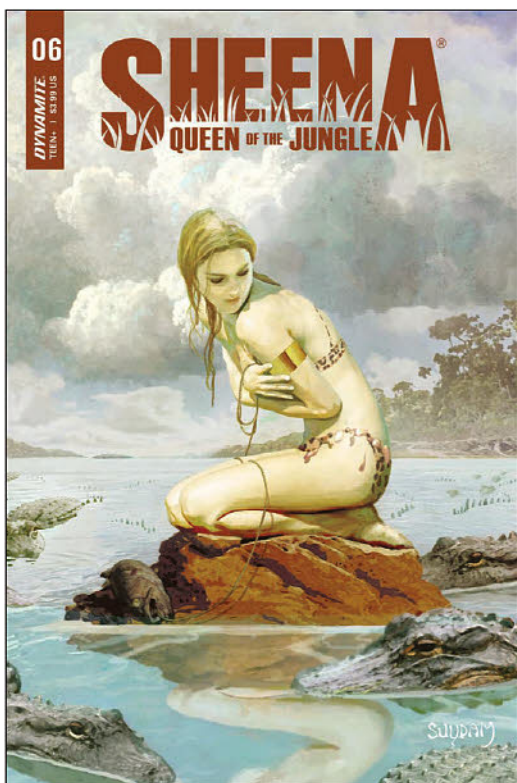

"The art here is terrific and beautiful. There is a visual distinction of the concrete jungle and the actual jungle. The two places look different while using the same art style. That boils down to detail. The glass in the buildings look real just as the leaves on the trees are equally defined" – Comic-Watch.com

Among the handful of screenwriters whose films have earned over $2 billion at the box office, Steven de Souza was introduced to Hollywood on camera—as a contestant on an L.A. game show. There the Philadelphia-based writer for PBS, "The New York Times," "Premiere," and other media outlets won a car and a color TV—and then talked his way into the office of several producers to leave behind some writing samples. A contract with Universal Television as a story editor was the result. From there, he moved into producing (Knight Rider (1982), then earned his first film credit on 48 Hrs. (1982). That film, along with Commando (1985), Die Hard (1988), and Die Hard 2 (1990) established his reputation as a writer who could juggle both action and humor. That combination remains evident in all of his subsequent work, which expanded to include science-fiction (V, (1984), The Running Man (1987), Judge Dredd (1995), horror (Tales from the Crypt (1989), Possessed (2000), and fantasy (The Flintstones (1994), Cadillacs and Dinosaurs (1993), and Lara Croft Tomb Raider: The Cradle of Life (2003).

He has been nominated two times each for the Edgar Allen Poe award for best mystery screenplay and the Saturn award for best Science Fiction/Fantasy Film. In 2000 he was honored with the Norman Lear Award for Lifetime Achievement in writing.

"Over the past several years, March has built up an impressive catalogue of work as an artist on some of DC's biggest icons"—CBR.COM

Before his work on Batman and the hit Joker series, before he created Karmen, there was the heartfelt story of Laura, the book that led Guillem March to the mainstream comics world!

Suffering from the ever-painful experience of unrequited love, twenty-year-old Laura takes a look at her life. Does the fact that the boy she has feelings for is in love with someone else mean there is something wrong with her? Or is that just how young love goes? And what will happen when she tries to get past the hurt and move on with her life?

Laura is an exploration into the mind of a young woman who has experienced something most people have, but in an honest and beautiful way that only Guillem March can bring us.

Other stories in the book include Irene, which explores the nature of inspiration and creating art outside of one's comfort zone, thanks to some advice from a role model and a cameo by Guillem himself. And in Muse, an artist's search for a model puts how a young woman is perceived by her male roommates into perspective.

"At 33 (Bastien Vives) is the new prince of intelligent, sensitive and funny Comics."—VANITY FAIR

A student of Classical Literature at the Sorbonne, Séverine is neither beautiful, ugly, brilliant, nor mediocre. The young woman lives a banal existence, without brilliance but without drama, alongside a companion who pays her less attention than a television series or video game.

After babysitting, she is given a silk blouse that will mysteriously change her life. From that day forward, men give her a different look, loaded with desire. Does the garment have a magic power? Séverine doesn't know, but she finds that it gives her confidence. And it allows her to take destiny into her own hands...

With the grace and the sensuality which he has already demonstrated in "A Sister," Bastien Vivès draws a new female portrait completely adult and contemporary in "The Blouse."

The HIT horror series returns!

Her footfalls don't exist. She leaves no marks. Her eyes are a white abyss. Does he want to? The answers are still hidden, but what's clear is that Bunny Mask is back to grab you by your eyeteeth, and never let go.

Writer Paul Tobin (MY DATE WITH MONSTERS, Colder) and artist Andrea Mutti (MANIAC OF NEW YORK, Hellblazer) have unleashed an eons-old legend upon an unsuspecting world – one that'll make your most horrific nightmare feel like a walk in the park!

How deep must you bury a body to make sure it doesn't haunt you?

Frank and Terry are about to find out. They were once members of The Dogs, a feared gang who ruled much of London's underworld back in the swinging 60s. They thought they'd escaped their troubled pasts, but the past isn't dead – it's just bashed about a bit and very pissed off. Spanning different times and classes, DOGS OF LONDON is a brutal, bloody tale of violence, love, revenge... and sleeping dogs who refuse to roll over and play dead.

Written by Peter Milligan (X-Force, OUT OF BODY, GOD OF TREMORS) and brought to bloody life by Artecida, the Dogs have awoken, and they seek more than mere revenge.

When evil people escape from the depths of the eternal abyss, the Pirate Queen Lady Shih is sent to retrieve them. But when one of history's most notorious killers breaks free, even she needs help. Enter the Heathens: Shih, Lucky Luciano, Bumpy Johnson, Sofia the Golden Hand and Billy the Kid. From Hell they came to mete out a justice as dark as their own tormented souls.

From the wonderfully wretched imaginations of AfterShock horror-alum Cullen Bunn (EDEN, PIECEMEAL, DARK ARK) and Heath Amodio (SuperCLEAN), and illustrated by superstar Sami Kivelä (UNDONE BY BLOOD), in THE HEATHENS, evil meets its match – five of them, to be exact.

Seven years ago, an attempt to weaponize dreams resulted in holes being punched through the world we know and into the world of dreams. Nightmarish creatures now stalk the land, sprouting from (and killing) anyone unlucky enough to dream. The only way to save the world is for certain people to have their dreams come true.

Which is how Risa Himura finds herself not only fighting monsters, but forced into finding true love. Monsters and modern dating? It feels like a nightmare either way, and the only help Risa has is a friendly-ish monster named Croak and her pre-teen daughter, Machi.

From Paul Tobin (BUNNY MASK) and Andy MacDonald (I BREATHED A BODY, Multiple Man), comes a unique story of one woman's quest to save the world, if only she could learn the difference between love and monsters.

This volume collects issues #1-5.

First, Dean Haspiel returns to writing and art duties in "Mid-Life Pisces." Can a family of antiheroes with three different philosophical points of view break bread at the end of the day? The patriarch, investigative journalist Paul Patton, Jr. (aka THE FOX) is desperate to find another story. He tries to get his son, Shinji (aka GHOST FOX) to come along with him, but his teenage son is more interested in dating than finding exclusive stories! Meanwhile, his wife, Mae (SHE FOX) must confront some sins of her past in the form of two super-villains! Then, in "Back to Back," written by Vito Delsante with line art by Richard Ortiz, we venture to the past, before Paul and Mae were married! CEX Publishing is proud to present a deluxe, hardcover edition of the indie hit comic! What would you do if you discovered that hell does not exist? Could you take on the role of the devil himself, meting out punishment for the wicked in your grotesque city of the damned? The team of Shaun Manning (Macbeth: The Red King) and Anna Wieszczyk (Godkiller) explore the temptation to take divine power into human hands as a popular high school teacher and his star pupil wield damnation and forgiveness as weapons. SHELTERBELTS GN

(W/A) Jonathan Dyck

Through a series of vignettes, Shelterbelts explores the perspectives, experiences and limitations of a wide range of characters who find themselves increasingly at odds with their surroundings. When a non-denominational megachurch opens on the edges of a rural Mennonite community, a quiet—but longstanding—battle begins to reveal itself. For years, the traditionalists in the community have held fast to the values and beliefs they grew up with, while other community members have begun raising important questions about LGBTQ+ inclusion, Indigenous land rights, and the Mennonite legacy of pacifism. Artist Jonathan Dyck depicts a close-knit community in the midst of defining its future as it reckons with its past. (STL222330) (C: 0-1-1)

When COVID-19 hit Montreal, cartoonist Rick Trembles started The Weakly Dispatch, a series of diary comics offering his personal perspective on pandemic life. Trembles' asthma put him at risk of a serious infection so, like many others, he took careful measures to avoid coming into contact with the virus. He self-isolated for months, surviving on grocery deliveries from friends, DIY workouts (to prevent muscle atrophy), and of course, comics. Leaving the apartment, however, turned out to be even harder than staying isolated. Initially foiled by stair-painters and coughing neighbors, Trembles quickly discovered a newly perilous world, populated by unmasked people and handshake enthusiasts. (STL222332) (C: 0-1-0)

(W/A/CA) Lynda Barry

The Freddie Stories traces a year in the life of Freddie, the youngest member of a troubled, often dysfunctional family. Collected from Lynda Barry's beloved Ernie Pook's Comeek, these four-panel entries, each representing an episode in the life of Freddie, bring to life adolescence, pimples and all. No matter what happens, it all seems to go wrong for Freddie. With consummate skill, Barry writes about the cruelty of children at this most vulnerable age when the friends they make and the paths they choose can forever change their lives. (STK518744)

JAMILTI AND OTHER STORIES HC

(W/A/CA) Rutu Modan

Jamilti and Other Stories collects the cartoonist's short works, which lead the reader through unexpected turns of plot and unusual character portraits. Some are darkly fantastical and unsettling, such as the unraveling of a serial-killer murder mystery, or her accounts of an infatuated plastic surgeon and his sanitarium, and a mother back from the dead with dubious healing powers. Others are more attuned to surprising discoveries that shape personal identity, as in the story of a tragic past that lies within a family's theme hotel, or that of a struggling musician who hopes an upcoming gig will be his big break. ONE HUNDRED DEMONS HC

(W/A/CA) Lynda Barry

Inspired by a 16th-century Zen monk's painting of a hundred demons chasing each other across a long scroll, acclaimed cartoonist Lynda Barry confronts various demons from her life in seventeen full-color vignettes. In Barry's hand, demons are the life moments that haunt you, form you and stay with you: your worst boyfriend; kickball games on a warm summer night; watching your baby brother dance; the smell of various houses in the neighborhood you grew up in; or the day you realize your childhood is long behind you and you are officially a teenager. As readers get to know Barry's demons, they realize that the actual truth no longer matters because the universality of Barry's comics, true or untrue, reigns supreme. (STL042458)

LET'S NOT TALK ANYMORE SC GN

(W/A/CA) Weng Pixin

Let's Not Talk Anymore weaves together five generations of women from Weng Pixin's family, each at age 15. Her lineage is full of breakages. She extends the line by envisioning a fictional future daughter, Rita, who questions her family's legacy. While spanning 100 years, Pixin moves back and forth in time seamlessly, as each woman experiences loneliness and kinship, hope and longing. (STL184516)

MELODY: THE STORY OF A NUDE DANCER GN

(W/A/CA) Sylvie Rancourt

In 1980, Sylvie Rancourt and her boyfriend moved to Montreal from rural Northern Quebec. With limited formal education or training, they had a hard time finding employment, so Sylvie began dancing in strip clubs. These experiences formed the backbone of the first Canadian autobiographical comic book, Melody, which Rancourt wrote, drew, and distributed. The Rancourt drawn-and-written comics have never before seen English publication. These stories are compelling without ever being voyeuristic or self-pitying. Rancourt shares a world that, in someone else's writing, might be scandalous or seedy, but in hers is fully realized, real, and often funny. (STK678928) (C: 0-0-1)

PRESENT HC

(W/A/CA) Leslie Stein

Leslie Stein takes us on a sinuous urban stroll divorced from destination, glimpsing New York City through her open eyes. While she is closing up a bar late at night, she is also an adolescent at a rave in the mountains, an adult grappling with her grandfather's fading memory or at one of her first waitressing jobs. Here, an autobiography is built through memories and moments tied together by loose lines, evoking a beautiful dreamlike yet endlessly relatable glimpse into the world of a thirty-something woman carving out a life for herself, one step at a time. THE CALL OF CTHULHU: A MYSTERY IN THREE PARTS ILLUSTRATED NOVEL SC

Written in 1928, H.P. Lovecraft's The Call of Cthulhu defined the ancient gods as dark creatures who came from the stars and ruled the world before mankind. When these ancient ones awaken, humanity is plagued by a nightmare of terrors etched upon an epic backdrop. The author's concept deeply redefined the horror story with this thrilling, dense mystery that spawned a virtual genre. The Call of Cthulhu, as illustrated by Gary Gianni, is a fusion of cinematic design, the graphic novel and illustrated books. Over a hundred finished pencil drawings with color pieces enhance and bring to life the work of two visionaries in an extraordinary feat of storytelling and art. (STL192307)

THE OVERSTREET GUIDE TO GRADING COMICS SC (6TH EDITION)

Newly revised & updated! Since 1970, the name "Overstreet" has symbolized a vast knowledge of American comic books. While The Overstreet Comic Book Price Guide helps you learn about comic values, this book teaches you the importance of condition (a factor that is often the key to real collectability) and how to grade accurately. The Overstreet Guide To Grading Comics includes the 10-point grading system, as well as exhaustive descriptions of Primary and Split Grades. It spotlights each grade with more than 200 full-color images in all, as well as articles on storage, preservation, and restoration, a look at the independent, third-party grading companies, and much more! A Creator You Should Know: PAUL LEVITZ

He started out as a fan, established a broad base of historical and contemporary knowledge about the field, developed as a writer, and eventually became the leader of one of the two biggest comic book companies. After writing and co-publishing the long-lived fanzine The Comic Reader, Paul Levitz could have called it a day and still been lauded for his contributions to the four color world. Good thing for us, though, he didn't stop there. As a writer, he's known for writing the Earth II adventures of the Justice Society of America in the revived All Star Comics in the 1970s, a period in which he co-created The Huntress. In the 1980s, he wrote a lengthy run on Legion of Super-Heroes, and he recently returned to scripting for a run of JSA. He's probably best known, though, as the President and Publisher of DC Comics, where he worked tirelessly to promote their characters as well as the history and future of the medium.

RADIUM GIRLS GN

(W/A) Cy

It's 1918 in Orange, New Jersey, and everyone knows the "Ghost Girls." The proud holders of well-paying jobs at the local watch factory, these working-class young women gain their nickname from the fine dusting of glowing, radioactive powder that clings to their clothes after every shift painting watch dials. The soft, greenish glow even stains their lips and tongues. It's perfectly harmless... or so claims the watch manufacturer. When teeth start falling out, followed by jawbones, the dial painters become the unprepared vanguard on the frontlines of the burgeoning workers' rights movement. Desperate for compensation and acknowledgement from the company that has doomed them, the Ghost Girls must fight, not just for their own lives but the future of every woman to follow them. ARSENE LUPIN, GENTLEMAN THIEF

Written By
Maurice Leblanc

Illustrated By
Vincent Mallie

E This book contains content deemed of safe appeal to readers of All Ages.

In 1907, Maurice Leblanc released the first collection of stories recounting the adventures of Arsene Lupin, a charming thief and master of disguises, inspiring generations of anti-heroes to follow. This new edition is colorfully illustrated by artist Vincent Mallie in an animated style reminiscent of Hayao Miyazaki (whose first directorial release was LUPIN THE 3rd: The Castle of Cagliostro, filled with nods to Leblanc's classic character).

ADRASTEIA

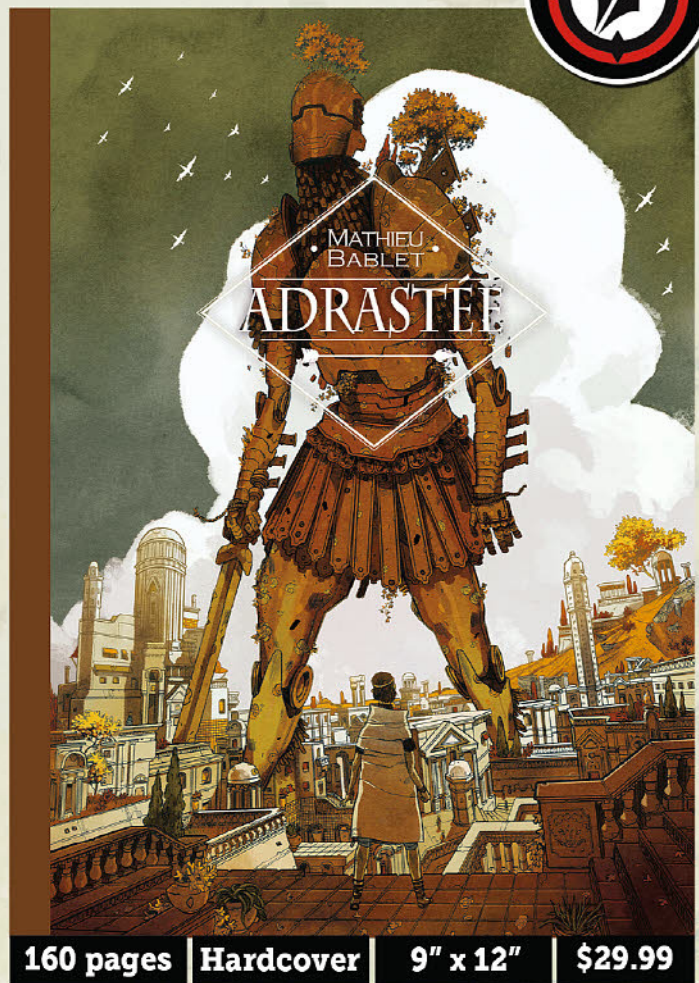

By
Mathieu Bablet

M

This book is intended for readers aged 18 and up. It may contain themes considered "mature."

After 1000 years on his throne, the former king of Hyperborea sets out for Mount Olympus to ask the gods why he was cursed with immortality, and how he might finally be allowed to die to rejoin the one he once loved. On his way, he will meet men, women, gods, and goddesses -- all surprisingly "human" in behavior -- who will influence and reveal truths to the traveler that he has long since forgotten.

Bablet layers in moments of poignant reflection on the purpose of Life and Death set against beautifully painted landscapes and vistas. A masterclass in epic graphic storytelling.

James doesn't know where he fits until he meets Ty, a young Black punk who introduces him to the school outsiders—skaters, unhappy young rebels, caught up in the punk groundswell sweeping the country. A haircut, a few Sex Pistols, Misfits and Black Flag records later: suddenly, James has friends, romantic prospects, and knows the difference between a bass and a guitar. Incredibly complex, powerfully determined, truly gifted, Colette challenged herself to reinvent her life and assert herself as a free woman. In her day, her behavior scandal-

KISSES FOR JET SC

(W/A) Joris Bas Backer

In 1999, when most people think that the world is about to end with the Y2K crash on the eve of the new Millennium, Jet is just trying to get through high school. When their Mom moves to another country to work on fixing the Millennium bug, Jet is forced to stay at a boarding house while they finish the school year, and they're not pleased about it. As Jet slowly starts to feel overwhelmed by their peers, they begin to notice that they don't feel like the other girls in their class. As new feelings start to emerge, Jet slowly begins to realise that they may be more of a boy than a girl. This coming-of-gender graphic novel debut from trans creator Joris Bas Backer is an enlightening and often hilarious tale that casts light on what it was like to be transgender before information and help was more accessible and widespread. In 2115, Earth has been abandoned as a lost cause, and humankind has moved on to space colonization. At a decrepit high school on the moon for underprivileged youth, Stab, Yuki, and Una are three teenagers who try to keep their boredom and resentment at bay by fighting rival gangs and cliques, hanging out, and sleeping their way through class, all while trying to avoid punishment from the student council. Fights over turf, respect, and snacks lead to unearthing an exciting secret, but is their friendship strong enough to forge a new future?

"An expertly drawn sci-fi adventure that is just brimming with heart. Even though Earth has been left behind, the feelings in the story feel deeply of this world."

—Tillie Walden (On A Sunbeam, Spinning)

"Great characters and fun story, but the real star is Jenn Woodall's cartooning, art, and voice (and also Stab)! All too relatable to anyone who has ever felt stuck and cut class. Except when school is on the moon, you need a spaceship to escape!"

MAGNUM OPUS: NEW PUBLISHER ON THE SCENE BRINGS "GREAT WORK" TO MARKET

It's comforting to know that even during a worldwide pandemic, creativity, talent, and the need to tell stories still flourishes. Case in point: The folks at OPUS are bringing their first two titles to press this May, and they are filled with the stuff that comics fans can't get enough of. As we prepared this issue for publication, we reached out to Opus Publisher and Incendium CEO, Llexi Leon, and Executive Editor Denton J. Tipton, and we spoke to them about Myths, Monsters, Metal, and that most iconic of creations of the legendary Frank Frazetta...

PREVIEWS: So, 2022 is the beginning of Opus' official debut. Off the bat, if there is one thing that you want people to know about you as a publisher, what would it be?

Llexi Leon: Opus Comics is the publishing arm of Incendium. We've been around for 15 years focusing on heavy music and related lifestyle properties, making toys, games, collectibles, and comics. This is the first time we're bringing our comics to the direct market under our own banner, and our areas of focus are simple—Myths, Monsters, and Metal!

Denton J. Tipton: I joined Incendium last year after more than a decade at IDW Publishing, and it reignited my love of the medium. It has also allowed me to make the most of the experience I've accumulated and relationships I've forged over that time. Over the past several years, the market has undergone major shifts, and we've been paying close attention to the pain points felt by collectors, readers, and retailers. Our publishing strategy aims to ease the pain and entertain.

P: Let's talk about your flagship title, Death Dealer. This is based on the iconic Frazetta piece, right?

Llexi: Exactly, there's a series of incredible Frazetta paintings featuring the Death Dealer, so a number of the locations and themes in the books are derived from the source material of the same name, but we're bringing in elements and characters from many other Frazetta works, and building that out into a more cohesive universe. The Death Dealer will meet the Sea Witch, the Sorcerer, and so on. We have grand plans for the "FrazettaVerse", and this series is just the beginning of our journey.

P: The Death Dealer story has been toyed with before. What is the angle that writer Mitch Iverson and artist Stefano Martino are taking?

Denton: Mitch took his natural storytelling talents and applied his experience in the writers rooms of Voltron and Dota: Dragon's Blood to cover all angles of building this world and its characters. His thoughtful approach informs the action, giving it meaning and consequence. The story is bold, bloody, and beautiful, and Stefano illustrates all those aspects to perfection.

Llexi: The Death Dealer may be the most iconic of Frazetta's works, but his paintings feature an incredible cast of creations, and they all deserve the spotlight! Stefano is a remarkable talent, able to deftly capture the power and movement of Frazetta's illustrations, whether it's a forest maiden or warring barbarian, and breathe new life into them. It's an unenviable challenge to be compared to one of the greats, but Stefano is absolutely holding his own!

P: Can you tell us anything about this potential universe Opus is spawning from Death Dealer?

Llexi: The Death Dealer is the central figure of this initial series, but he's by no means the only character we're exploring. We're also looking at distinct themes of Frazetta's work to explore not only the iconic high-fantasy images, but also his contributions to science fiction and horror. Our collaboration doesn't end with the comics either — we have toys, collectibles, apparel, and digital offerings coming to compliment the comics and bolster the community.

P: Is your overall focus Frazetta? Or will you be exploring other concepts?

Llexi: We felt that Death Dealer in particular had a natural overlap for us. It doesn't really get more mythical, monstrous, or metal than Frazetta's fantasy artwork, but it also opened the door to a whole other world outside of the music fandom. This is one of the first "non-music" IPs we're building out, though it certainly feels right at home alongside Cradle of Filth, Disturbed, Exodus, HammerFall, and so on!

Denton: We'll be turning some heads with the announcement of our second licensed series, which will launch in June. You'll be hearing much more about that most triumphant return very soon!

P: Looking forward, what can readers expect from Opus?

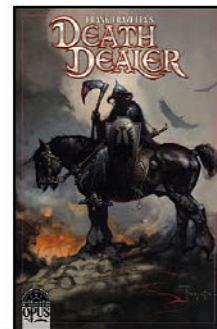

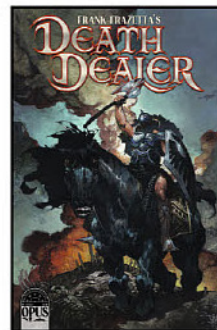

Llexi: Incredible artwork, top-notch storytelling, fresh spins on iconic properties, and plenty of the heaviest bands out there making their debut in the comics medium. We take a different tact with licensing, and build out long-term, highly collaborative partnerships to support our titles for many years. If there's something coming from OPUS that's exciting to you, rest assured this is just the beginning!

Denton: I think Llexi touched on something very important to us that I want to put a fine point on. We're here for the long haul. We're building a sustainable program that readers (and retailers) can come to depend on. We have your attention thanks to Frazetta and the bands we work with, but next comes earning your trust.

P: In terms of audience, who is Opus for?

Denton: Anyone who enjoys myths, monsters or metal!

Llexi: Yup, very few restrictions while it all ties back to those three pillars. We're passionate about storytelling and artistry, we want to be true to the source material and let great talent do their thing. The slate features horror, action, adventure, comedy, even the occasional gothic romance, and there's more to come!

BAUHAUS GRAPHIC NOVEL

(W) Valentina Grande

The novel is divided into three chapters that trace the evolution of the Bauhaus, as its center moved across Germany—from Weimar to Dessau to Berlin—and as its philosophy responded to this economically, politically, and intellectually highly charged era in Europe. THEY SHOULDN'T HAVE KILLED HIS DOG: THE COMPLETE UNCENSORED HISTORY OF JOHN WICK HC

(W) Mark Altman, Ed Gross

There have been iconic moments in the action movie genre over the years, but nothing has come close to matching the kinetic, balletic gun-fu of the John Wick films. Bestselling authors Mark A. Altman and Edward Gross take you behind the scenes of a franchise that includes three films with two more sequels and a television series on the way, while exploring the action classics that led to John Wick as well as the films it inspired, like Atomic Blonde. They bring you right into the middle of the action of the John Wick films, detailing how the seemingly impossible was achieved through exclusive interviews with the cast, writers, directors, producers, stuntmen, fight choreographers, cinematographers, studio executives, editors, critics, and more. GAY GIANT: A MEMOIR GN

(W/A) Gabriel Ebensperger

A child who feels like an outsider in a world that's set against him. A boy who sings on the playground instead of playing soccer, who likes Barbies, and whose secretly favorite car is the one called Tutti Frutti. Gabriel Ebensperger shares with us his struggles with his own inadequacy, his feelings of guilt, and above all, his fear that his "difference" will be discovered. The vibrant bright pink pages of Gay Giant paint a picture of what it was like to grow up being gay in the '90s, through the voice of an endearing character, who on the way to becoming an adult realizes that the rejection of the world is never over, and that true acceptance comes from within yourself. MUSEUM OF MISTAKES: THE DEFINITIVE FART PARTY COLLECTION TP

(W/A/CA) Julia Wertz
For almost two decades, Julia Wertz has been documenting her life's most intimate, absurd, and amusing moments through a whimsical and hilarious diary comic book called The Fart Party. Wertz retells childhood antics that end in scars and swears. She tracks, in real-time, her young adulthood as she forgot her college graduation, traveled cross country via train, and drank her way through a harsh break-up.

Long out of print, Museum of Mistakes collects anything and everything that is The Fart Party. PLUS: numerous pages of Julia's early comic work, unpublished and previously uncollected comics, short stories, illustrations, process pages, hate mail, sketchbook pages, tear stains, and more. THE MEN WHO CREATED GUNDAM GN

(W/A) Hideki Owada

In 1978 animation director Yoshiyuki Tomino set forth to change the Japanese animation industry. For decades prior, Japanese science fiction had churned out numerous tales of semi-autonomous robots that would often come to the aide of humanity, but as someone who worked on a number of those works, Tomino came to the realization that he wanted to see a more realistic robot narrative. His vision was one where the robot, while just slightly more human in appearance, was utilized more as a tool manipulated by man. With renowned artist Yoshikazu Yasuhiko by his side, and occasionally as his artistic rival, Tomino would change the way the whole world came to see Japanese animation and the broader toy and comics industries built around it. SPOTLIGHT ON

BATMAN 1966: BATCAVE DESKTOP SCULPTURE

From Factory Entertainment. The Batcave has enjoyed many iterations over the years, both in print and on screen. One of the most enduring and iconic was the version that featured in the classic 1966 Batman TV series. This model does not attempt to duplicate a particular arrangement from a given episode or a specific scene. Rather it replicates the "feel" of the Batcave set as it is most commonly seen. The inclusion of movable elements allows you to customize the look of the cave, including the prominent 'atomic pile.' Each model contains more than 16 different LED lights, in a variety of hues, both fixed and animated, that bring the Batcave to life, including: Hidden floor lights, A pulsating color change effect inside the Atomic Core, and Flashing lights in select monitors and screens. The model is powered by 6 AAA batteries and lights are independently controlled by two separate circuits with on/off switches. The model measures an impressive 18" x 14" x 9" and weighs in at over 20lbs. It comes in a collector box and includes a combined booklet and certificate of authenticity that tells the story of the original set and the replica. (STL220411) Item has been previously solicited in New to Order. Scheduled to ship in September 2022. (1570/408958) (C: 1-1-2)
